Sitting on your front porch with your dog, enjoying a warm cup of coffee, taking in the morning breeze - is there a better way to start your day?

For Robert, a previous patient guest at Brother Francis Medical Respite, this is how he starts most days, thanks to you.

After the stroke, Robert began his stay at the Medical Respite program with his service dog, Fefe.

While in the Medical Respite Program, Case Manager Theresa began working with Robert.

Robert told Theresa that he was ready to be permanently housed. After hearing this, Theresa and Robert got to work. Theresa started searching for an apartment for Robert and Fefe. However, this task was more difficult than originally thought out to be. Robert longed for a yard for his sweet service dog and hoped they would find the perfect place with a yard for Fefe.

After some time of searching, they found the perfect apartment!

After move in day, Robert and Fefe quickly became good friends with their new neighbor, Gerald. Gerald also happens to have been a previous guest at Brother Francis Shelter and was housed last year.

This shared experience between Robert and Gerald has helped them develop a special connection. Now, each morning before they start their day, Robert and Gerald enjoy a cup of coffee on the porch together and take in the morning breeze.

Your Support Continues......................4
As numbers increased and now as they begin to decrease, we have continually looked at our policies again with the guidance and support of the local and state health departments and the Emergency Operations Center at the Municipality. BFS staff show up every single day with passion and commitment to do the hard work of keeping people safe and on the road to self-sufficiency. We are so grateful to these true heroes, BFS staff. They continue to do all they can to keep each client safe and well as they navigate this challenging time. We are so proud of their bravery, their dedication, and their continuous desire to improve the lives of everyone here in Anchorage.

Thank you also to our community and supporters for your continued thoughts and prayers. So many of you have reached out to express support, and even donated food or coffee to staff. Please know these small gestures go so far. Your thoughtfulness and support are what keep us going, and serving our community and improving our community, one person at a time.

We are grateful for your continued support and prayers, especially during this trying time.

It is a space for guests to heal, connect with nature, and learn to care for the garden. One guest, Sheila* has benefited greatly from spending time among the plants. She took an immediate interest in the garden and began to spend most of her time there.

Raeshawndra, Medical Respite Program Manager illustrates the profound effect of the garden on Sheila’s journey, “This client became very involved in our garden project. She created a sign that says Small but Mighty. She also encourages other guests to participate in the garden. I can see where she has grown from her experience with the garden.” Caring for and seeking peace within the garden has helped her and other guests with recovery and becoming more motivated in their individual paths toward permanent stability. The garden has given them a sense of responsibility in caring for something other than themselves.

Staff and guests at BFS are looking forward to harvesting the garden and the possibility of expanding it next year. Medical Respite Case Manager, Sarah explains, “The garden has been more beneficial than we ever could have imagined.” Not only has the garden helped improve guest wellbeing, it’s also provided a more relaxed and welcoming space for guests and case managers to talk and work together, helping guests open up so that staff can better serve their needs. These small projects offered to the guests bring big joy. The timing of the garden giving hope is truly a small miracle in our guests’ lives.

MEDICAL RESPITE GARDEN

The Medical Respite Program, funded in part by Providence Health Services, at Brother Francis Shelter (BFS) created a garden this past summer. Toward the back of the shelter, plastic planters attached to the chain link fence contain petunias, daisies and other flowers planted by guests. The summer sunshine warms the petals and releases their stimulating perfume. The garden has proven to be a space for guests at BFS to enjoy the outdoors and assist in their recovery. Many of the guests have spent time in the garden caring for the plants and have expressed to BFS staff just how much they enjoy the serenity the garden offers them.
